Description

Matesica is a Portuguese company founded in 1974, dedicated to research and development of chemical products for various markets, particularly, Construction and Industry, as the result of many years of research and experiments. All products are submitted to a rigorous Quality Control. Due to its environmental concern, Matesica was pioneer in developing water based products. The strategic option, taken a few years ago, in Restoration and Rehabilitation, lead to Innovative and Vanguard range products, like, flame retardant coatings and Port´Cal (lime plasters and paints), has become the right bet, due to their great application in ancient buildings and Monuments.
